

License Agreement for Home-Nostruktur (HomeNos)

TREND Redaktions- und Verlagsgesellschaft mbH, Leo-Wohleb-Str. 8, D-79098 Freiburg im Breisgau (hereinafter "TREND") is the holder of the exclusive copyrights and trademark rights to the software product "Eisenbahn.exe professional" ("EEP") and the construction program "Home-Nostruktur" ("HomeNos").

TREND offers its customers a licensing program for HomeNos. Participation allows customers to use the program free of charge to create 3D models for EEP, either for personal use or for marketing via TREND. The customer receives (only upon application to TREND) a simple, non-transferable, and unlimited right of use for the HomeNos software. The granting of the license is at TREND's sole discretion. The customer has no legal claim to receive a license, even if they are already a licensee of the EEP program.

The customer is obliged to obtain permission from the rights holder when reproducing protected content. Marketing EEP models via TREND is not permitted if the models created by the customer infringe copyrights, industrial property rights, or other third-party rights. In such cases, TREND is entitled to terminate the HomeNos license agreement without notice.

Upon receipt of such termination, the customer is required to immediately delete HomeNos from all devices on which it has been installed or used.

TREND reserves the right to test each model created by the customer and submitted for marketing, checking its quality, error-free status, and technical functionality, and then deciding whether and at what price the model will be marketed. If TREND intends to include a model in its marketing program, the customer will be notified. A model is considered accepted only once it has been registered and signed by TREND.

Registration includes the following data: the customer's full name, email address, customer number, registration number of the EEP version used, the names of the submitted file(s), the LOG file(s) from the model export, and a thumbnail image (preview) of the model.

Uploading unregistered models and downloading registered models is done via the EEP shop. The customer agrees that TREND has sole decision-making authority regarding whether a model is marketed, the duration of its marketing, and its price.

The HomeNos software, its components, and help texts are protected by copyright. TREND reserves all rights. Instructions in printed or electronic form, screenshots, or any other content may only be reproduced with TREND's express written permission.

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The software is licensed and delivered based on its current stage of development. TREND does not guarantee any specific functionality nor the inclusion of a customer's model in its marketing program. Otherwise, TREND's general terms and conditions apply, available at www.eepshopping.de.